No, I haven't got it, only because I haven't bought a new computer lately. What I want to know is is all my software still compatible with this there? I've got software that is around three or four years old, some of it to a little bit older. A lot of stuff to do with websites etc. Also, am I going to have to upgrade Dragon? I suppose even if you don't want vista, you don't have a choice if you buy a new PC now

Hi i talked to my friend bez who worked for microsoft and told me keep xp vista has lots of problems and wont work with older software. speech rec will improve bill gates had a meeting and said so we wont need a keyboard which is great because i hate typing. Even better for people with limited hand use.:)
